Who Am I?

My name is Jordan Lawrence. I'm an independent support worker who provides guitar lessons as well as song writing workshops for clients of all ages. With years of experience in music production, performance and writing—my aim is to introduce people to a new world of self-expression.

Why Music?

Music is fun, universal and communicates ideas that language cannot. Whether you choose to learn an instrument or not, anybody can write a song with the help of seasoned musician!
